This report form is designed to report an appraisal of a one-unit property or a one-unit property with an accessory unit; including a unit in a planned unit development (PUD). This report form is not designed to report an appraisal of a manufactured home or a unit in a condominium or cooperative project.

This appraisal report is subject to the following scope of work, intended use, intended user, definition of market value, statement of assumptions and limiting conditions, and certifications. Modifications, additions, or deletions to the intended use, intended user, definition of market value, or assumptions and limiting conditions are not permitted. The appraiser may expand the scope of work to include any additional research or analysis necessary based on the complexity of this appraisal assignment. Modifications or deletions to the certifications are also not permitted. However, additional certifications that do not constitute material alterations to this appraisal report, such as those required by law or those related to the appraiser's continuing education or membership in an appraisal organization, are permitted.

SCOPE OF WORK: The scope of work for this appraisal is defined by the complexity of this appraisal assignment and the reporting requirements of this appraisal report form, including the following definition of market value, statement of assumptions and limiting conditions, and certifications. The appraiser must, at a minimum: (1) perform a complete visual inspection of the interior and exterior areas of the subject property, (2) inspect the neighborhood, (3) inspect each of the comparable sales from at least the street, (4) research, verify, and analyze data from reliable public and/or private sources, and (5) report his or her analysis, opinions, and conclusions in this appraisal report.

INTENDED USE: The intended use of this appraisal report is for the lender/client to evaluate the property that is the subject of this appraisal for a mortgage finance transaction.

INTENDED USER: The intended user of this appraisal report is the lender/client.

DEFINITION OF MARKET VALUE: The most probable price which a property should bring in a competitive and open market under all conditions requisite to a fair sale, the buyer and seller, each acting prudently, knowledgeably and assuming the price is not affected by undue stimulus. Implicit in this definition is the consummation of a sale as of a specified date and the passing of title from seller to buyer under conditions whereby: (1) buyer and seller are typically motivated; (2) both parties are well informed or well advised, and each acting in what he or she considers his or her own best interest; (3) a reasonable time is allowed for exposure in the open market; (4) payment is made in terms of cash in U. S. dollars or in terms of financial arrangements comparable thereto; and (5) the price represents the normal consideration for the property sold unaffected by special or creative financing or sales concessions* granted by anyone associated with the sale.

*Adjustments to the comparables must be made for special or creative financing or sales concessions. No adjustments are necessary for those costs which are normally paid by sellers as a result of tradition or law in a market area; these costs are readily identifiable since the seller pays these costs in virtually all sales transactions. Special or creative financing adjustments can be made to the comparable property by comparisons to financing terms offered by a third party institutional lender that is not already involved in the property or transaction. Any adjustment should not be calculated on a mechanical dollar for dollar cost of the financing or concession but the dollar amount of any adjustment should approximate the market's reaction to the financing or concessions based on the appraiser's judgment.

STATEMENT OF ASSUMPTIONS AND LIMITING CONDITIONS: The appraiser's certification in this report is subject to the following assumptions and limiting conditions:

1. The appraiser will not be responsible for matters of a legal nature that affect either the property being appraised or the title to it, except for information that he or she became aware of during the research involved in performing this appraisal. The appraiser assumes that the title is good and marketable and will not render any opinions about the title.

2. The appraiser has provided a sketch in this appraisal report to show the approximate dimensions of the improvements. The sketch is included only to assist the reader in visualizing the property and understanding the appraiser's determination of its size.

3. The appraiser has examined the available flood maps that are provided by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (or other data sources) and has noted in this appraisal report whether any portion of the subject site is located in an identified Special Flood Hazard Area. Because the appraiser is not a surveyor, he or she makes no guarantees, express or implied, regarding this determination.

4. The appraiser will not give testimony or appear in court because he or she made an appraisal of the property in question, unless specific arrangements to do so have been made beforehand, or as otherwise required by law.

5. The appraiser has noted in this appraisal report any adverse conditions (such as needed repairs, deterioration, the presence of hazardous wastes, toxic substances, etc.) observed during the inspection of the subject property or that he or she became aware of during the research involved in performing this appraisal. Unless otherwise stated in this appraisal report, the appraiser has no knowledge of any hidden or unapparent physical deficiencies or adverse conditions of the property (such as, but not limited to, needed repairs, deterioration, the presence of hazardous wastes, toxic substances, adverse environmental conditions, etc.) that would make the property less valuable, and has assumed that there are no such conditions and makes no guarantees or warranties, express or implied. The appraiser will not be responsible for any such conditions that do exist or for any engineering or testing that might be required to discover whether such conditions exist. Because the appraiser is not an expert in the field of environmental hazards, this appraisal report must not be considered as an environmental assessment of the property.

6. The appraiser has based his or her appraisal report and valuation conclusion for an appraisal that is subject to satisfactory completion, repairs, or alterations on the assumption that the completion, repairs, or alterations of the subject property will be performed in a professional manner.

6. I researched, verified, analyzed, and reported on the prior sales of the comparable sales for a minimum of one year prior to the date of sale of the comparable sale, unless otherwise indicated in this report.

7. I selected and used comparable sales that are locationally, physically, and functionally the most similar to the subject property.

8. I have not used comparable sales that were the result of combining a land sale with the contract purchase price of a home that has been built or will be built on the land.

9. I have reported adjustments to the comparable sales that reflect the market's reaction to the differences between the subject property and the comparable sales.

10. I verified, from a disinterested source, all information in this report that was provided by parties who have a financial interest in the sale or financing of the subject property.

11. I have knowledge and experience in appraising this type of property in this market area.

I have noted in this appraisal report any adverse conditions (such as, but not limited to, needed repairs, deterioration, the presence of hazardous wastes, toxic substances, adverse environmental conditions, etc.) observed during the inspection of the subject property or that I became aware of during the research involved in performing this appraisal. 16. I stated in this appraisal report my own personal, unbiased, and professional analysis, opinions, and conclusions, which are subject only to the assumptions and limiting conditions in this appraisal report.

18. My employment and/or compensation for performing this appraisal or any future or anticipated appraisals was not conditioned on any agreement or understanding, written or otherwise, that I would report (or present analysis supporting) a predetermined specific value, a predetermined minimum value, a range or direction in value, a value that favors the cause of any party, or the attainment of a specific result or occurrence of a specific subsequent event (such as approval of a pending mortgage loan application).

Uniform Appraisal Dataset Definitions

Condition Ratings and Definitions

C1 The improvements have been very recently constructed and have not previously been occupied. The entire structure and all components are new and the dwelling features no physical depreciation.*

*Note: Newly constructed improvements that feature recycled materials and/or components can be considered new dwellings provided that the dwelling is placed on a 100% new foundation and the recycled materials and the recycled components have been rehabilitated/re-manufactured into like-new condition. Recently constructed improvements that have not been previously occupied are not considered "new" if they have any significant physical depreciation (i.e., newly constructed dwellings that have been vacant for an extended period of time without adequate maintenance or upkeep).

C2 The improvements feature no deferred maintenance, little or no physical depreciation, and require no repairs. Virtually all building components are new or have been recently repaired, refinished, or rehabilitated. All outdated components and finishes have been updated and/or replaced with components that meet current standards. Dwellings in this category either are almost new or have been recently completely renovated and are similar in condition to new construction.

*Note: The improvements represent a relatively new property that is well maintained with no deferred maintenance and little or no physical depreciation, or an older property that has been recently completely renovated.

C3 The improvements are well maintained and feature limited physical depreciation due to normal wear and tear. Some components, but not every major building component, may be updated or recently rehabilitated. The structure has been well maintained.

*Note: The improvement is in its first-cycle of replacing short-lived building components (appliances, floor coverings, HVAC, etc.) and is being well maintained. Its estimated effective age is less than its actual age. It also may reflect a property in which the majority of short-lived building components have been replaced but not to the level of a complete renovation.

C4 The improvements feature some minor deferred maintenance and physical deterioration due to normal wear and tear. The dwelling has been adequately maintained and requires only minimal repairs to building components/mechanical systems and cosmetic repairs. All major building components have been adequately maintained and are functionally adequate.

*Note: The estimated effective age may be close to or equal to its actual age. It reflects a property in which some of the short-lived building components have been replaced, and some short-lived building components are at or near the end of their physical life expectancy; however, they still function adequately. Most minor repairs have been addressed on an ongoing basis resulting in an adequately maintained property.

C5 The improvements feature obvious deferred maintenance and are in need of some significant repairs. Some building components need repairs, rehabilitation, or updating. The functional utility and overall livability is somewhat diminished due to condition, but the dwelling remains useable and functional as a residence.

*Note: Some significant repairs are needed to the improvements due to the lack of adequate maintenance. It reflects a property in which many of its short-lived building components are at the end of or have exceeded their physical life expectancy but remain functional.

C6 The improvements have substantial damage or deferred maintenance with deficiencies or defects that are severe enough to affect the safety, soundness, or structural integrity of the improvements. The improvements are in need of substantial repairs and rehabilitation, including many or most major components.

*Note: Substantial repairs are needed to the improvements due to the lack of adequate maintenance or property damage. It reflects a property with conditions severe enough to affect the safety, soundness, or structural integrity of the improvements.

Quality Ratings and Definitions

Q1 Dwellings with this quality rating are usually unique structures that are individually designed by an architect for a specified user. Such residences typically are constructed from detailed architectural plans and specifications and feature an exceptionally high level of workmanship and exceptionally high-grade materials throughout the interior and exterior of the structure. The design features exceptionally high-quality exterior refinements and ornamentation, and exceptionally high-quality interior refinements. The workmanship, materials, and finishes throughout the dwelling are of exceptionally high quality.

Q2 Dwellings with this quality rating are often custom designed for construction on an individual property owner's site. However, dwellings in this quality grade are also found in high-quality tract developments featuring residences constructed from individual plans or from highly modified or upgraded plans. The design features detailed, high-quality exterior ornamentation, high-quality interior refinements, and detail. The workmanship, materials, and finishes throughout the dwelling are generally of high or very high quality.

Q3 Dwellings with this quality rating are residences of higher quality built from individual or readily available designer plans in above-standard residential tract developments or on an individual property owner's site. The design includes significant exterior ornamentation and interiors that are well finished. The workmanship exceeds acceptable standards and many materials and finishes throughout the dwelling have been upgraded from "stock" standards.

Q4 Dwellings with this quality rating meet or exceed the requirements of applicable building codes. Standard or modified standard building plans are utilized and the design includes adequate fenestration and some exterior ornamentation and interior refinements. Materials, workmanship, finish, and equipment are of stock or builder grade and may feature some upgrades.

Q5 Dwellings with this quality rating feature economy of construction and basic functionality as main considerations. Such dwellings feature a plain design using readily available or basic floor plans featuring minimal fenestration and basic finishes with minimal exterior ornamentation and limited interior detail. These dwellings meet minimum building codes and are constructed with inexpensive, stock materials with limited refinements and upgrades.

Q6 Dwellings with this quality rating are of basic quality and lower cost; some may not be suitable for year-round occupancy. Such dwellings are often built with simple plans or without plans, often utilizing the lowest quality building materials. Such dwellings are often built or expanded by persons who are professionally unskilled or possess only minimal construction skills. Electrical, plumbing, and other mechanical systems and equipment may be minimal or non-existent. Older dwellings may feature one or more substandard or non-conforming additions to the original structure.

Definitions of Not Updated, Updated, and Remodeled

Not Updated

Little or no updating or modernization. This description includes, but is not limited to, new homes.
Residential properties of fifteen years of age or less often reflect an original condition with no updating, if no major components have been replaced or updated. Those over fifteen years of age are also considered not updated if the appliances, fixtures, and finishes are predominantly dated. An area that is 'Not Updated' may still be well maintained and fully functional, and this rating does not necessarily imply deferred maintenance or physical /functional deterioration.

Updated

The area of the home has been modified to meet current market expectations. These modifications are limited in terms of both scope and cost.
An updated area of the home should have an improved look and feel, or functional utility. Changes that constitute updates include refurbishment and/or replacing components to meet existing market expectations. Updates do not include significant alterations to the existing structure.

Remodeled

Significant finish and/or structural changes have been made that increase utility and appeal through complete replacement and/ or expansion.
A remodeled area reflects fundamental changes that include multiple alterations. These alterations may include some or all of the following: replacement of a major component (cabinet(s), bathtub, or bathroom tile), relocation of plumbing/gas fixtures/appliances, significant structural alterations (relocating walls, and/or the addition of square footage). This would include a complete gutting and rebuild.

Explanation of Bathroom Count

The number of full and half baths is reported by separating the two values by a period. The full bath is represented to the left of the period. The half bath count is represented to the right of the period. Three-quarter baths are to be counted as a full bath in all cases. Quarter baths (baths that feature only toilet) are not to be included in the bathroom count.

" URAR: Neighborhood - Boundaries
The subject is bounded by County Road 1600 to the North, by the County Line to the South, by Interstate 35 to the West, and by Highway 1 to the East. Within these boundaries the neighborhood characteristics are quite similar and the demand is the same for these neighborhood boundaries.

" URAR : Sales Comparison Analysis - Summary of Sales Comparison Approach

Records were researched to find the most comparable sales, or the sales most representative of the subject and the subject market. Every attempt was made to locate sales that were the closest in proximity to the subject. There were normal adjustments made to each comparable in order to arrive at my opinion of value. The appraiser utilizes his personal knowledge of the real estate market and sales data to determine the size and amount of each adjustment. The adjustments made and the rationale for each are as follows:

SALES OR FINANCING CONCESSIONS: I found no unusual financing concessions: The typical financing in the area consists of VA, FHA, and Conventional Bank Loans with Bank Loans typically being sold on the "secondary" market.

DATE OF SALE/TIME: The market in the area remains relatively steady. With this factor in mind, I found no time adjustment necessary.

LOCATION: The subject and comparable sales are considered similar in location without significant differences in proximity situations and distances to shopping, employment, and/or social functions, etc.

LEASEHOLD/FEE SIMPLE: The subject was appraised assuming an un-encumbered "FEE SIMPLE" title without undue restrictions and with only normal mortgage indebtedness.

SITE: Typically, site adjustments are made to compensate for the size differential. The adjustment was based on 60% per acre of the opinion of value for vacant land in the market segment which is $4,844 and was rounded to the nearest 100.

VIEW: Since the subject and sales were within the same or competing neighborhoods, without substantial differences in site/view, an adjustment did not appear to be necessary.

DESIGN AND APPEAL: Comparables were utilized that did not substantially differ in design and appeal and no adjustment was necessary.

QUALITY OF CONSTRUCTION: Again sales were located that were mostly similar in quality of construction with the subject and no adjustment was deemed necessary.

AGE: The actual age of the subject was determined and the effective age was estimated. The anticipated life expectancy of the subject and comparables were estimated at 60 years yielding an annual depreciation factor of 1.67% i.e. (1/60 = 1.67%). Next, the site or lot value was subtracted from the sales price, leaving only the value of the improvements. The difference then between effective age of the subject and the effective age of the comparable sale was multiplied by 1.67% to arrive at a factor which is then multiplied by the value of the improvements to arrive at the adjustment used on each comparable sale.
By utilizing the special technique of market extraction, I have extracted the factor of 1.67% from the market, which further supports the effective age life method of depreciation.

NOTE: This method of depreciation is used in the "Marshall and Swift" cost analysis. The same 60 year anticipated life is used in the Cost Approach and the same 1.67% per annum depreciation is taken from the cost new of the improvements prior to the addition of land or site values. This formula then, makes the cost and market consistent throughout.

CONDITION: This adjustment is made for the differences of the condition while comparing the Subject to the comparables. Analyzing the price per square footage of the comparable sales used within the report will determine if this adjustment should be applied. The adjustment is always used for new construction of a residence since the comparables are not brand new like the Subject as of the effective date. If this adjustment is used; then in order to arrive at this adjustment the formula described under age will be applied.

ROOM COUNT: The comparables are adjusted for the difference in square footage. This adjustment is typically 60% of the sales price per square foot of the sales. In addition to this adjustment, there was no further adjustment for the room count. EXCEPTION: In the case of differences in bath count, there is an adjustment for this difference in as much as the typical buyer is often stimulated by the additional baths, and due to the cost of a bath being substantially greater than normal living area. There will be an adjustment for the bath count differential.

GROSS LIVING AREA: This adjustment is approximately 60% of the sales price per square foot of the sales less and except the land value.

HEATING/COOLING: An adjustment may be necessary for differences in central heat and air versus wall/floor furnaces, space heaters, etc. This adjustment is based on the market reaction to this amenity.

GARAGE/CARPORT: Adjustments for the differences in car storage are deemed necessary and are based on the "typical" buyer reaction or market reaction.

PORCH/PATIOS: At times an adjustment may be necessary when there are significant differences in size and quality of this feature.
EXTRA AMENITIES: This adjustment is made based on the quality, size, and typical value of the subject versus the comparable sales. Usually the larger and more expensive the home the more elaborate or expensive the outbuilding. This adjustment is based on the Depreciated Cost Data Analysis. This is based on a 50 economic life of the outbuilding, applying the cost approach along with depreciation for the age of the building for this adjustment.

CONCLUSION: The above adjustments are made in order to arrive at a conclusion and a final reconciliation of the value of the subject. This explanation of the adjustments are tendered to give an indication as to the appraiser's reasoning and rationale for the adjustments. After extensive research these were the best available comparables within the neighborhood boundaries. During the reconciliation comparable one received 20%, comparable two received 15%, comparable three received 25%, comparable four received 20% and comparable five received 20% of the gross adjusted sales price for the opinion of the market value.

These items shall supercede and take precedence over all other language, requirements, or conditions contained in any preprinted and/or third-party forms or documents included in, or incorporated by reference into, the appraisal report.

HIGHEST AND BEST USE ANALYSIS

Highest and Best Use is defined as "that reasonable and probable use that will support the highest value, as defined, as of the effective date of the appraisal." Alternatively, that use, from among reasonably probable and legal alternative uses, found to be physically possible, appropriately supported, financially feasible, and which results in the highest land value.

The definition immediately above applies specifically to the highest and best use of land. It is to be recognized that in cases where a site has existing improvements on it, the highest and best use may very well be determined to be different from the existing use. The existing use will continue, however, unless and until land value in its highest and best use exceeds the total value of the property in its existing use.

Implied within these definitions is recognition of the contribution of that specific use to community environment or to community development goals in addition to wealth maximization of individual property owners. Also implied is that the determination of highest and best use resulting from the appraiser's own judgment and analytical skill; i.e., "that the use determined from analysis represents an opinion, not a factor to be found"' (The dictionary of Real Estate, Second Edition, AIREA).

In determining the highest and best use of the site, the process is one of considering all possible uses to which it can be put. Of these uses, only those legally permissible uses are further narrowed to those that are economically feasible. Finally, highest and best use of the site is selected from those uses considered feasible.

Legal Restraints:

The subject site is situated outside the limits of Sulphur, Oklahoma and therefore is not restricted by the city's zoning ordinances. No known covenants, restricting the subject tract of land, exists. No known deed restrictions to the subject property exist. Considering the site to be vacant, it could be developed for a wide variety of uses. The primary development trend within the subject neighborhood can be characterized as single family. The subject use is consistent with development patterns within the neighborhood.

P HYSICAL RESTRAINTS:

The subject site consists of approximately 10 acres. It is not physically possible to construct a wide variety of uses on the site, without physical restraints. However it is physically possible to construct a single family residence on this site.

Feasible Use:

For any project, the test of feasibility is the soundness of the required investment. The calculation of the amount and timing of the required investment, the anticipated recovery of and return on the investment, and the risks attached to the recovery and the returns is the core of feasibility analysis.

Maximally Productive:

Finally the highest and best use is that use that produces the greatest return over a specified term. The subject is presently used for single family, which appears to be maximally productive for this property.

CONCLUSION: The subject is used for single family at the present time. It is my opinion that among all alternate uses, the current use is the highest and best use. The highest and best use of this property would be single family use.

Explain in detail the seller concessions trends for the past 12 months (e.g., seller contributions increased from 3% to 5%, increasing use of buydowns, closing costs, condo fees, options, etc.).

Sellers concessions are still a viable part of this market, however, it is becoming less prevalent.

Are foreclosure sales (REO sales) a factor in the market? ☒ Yes ☐ No If yes, explain (including the trends in listings and sales of foreclosed properties).

There are some foreclosures in this area, however it is typical to have some. There does not appear to be an over-supply of foreclosures.

Cite data sources for above information. The above information was obtained from the MLS and my personal experience and witnessing of the contracts in the course of my appraisal activities. This information does not included FSBO, private or other sales involving realtors that do not participate with the MLS.

Summarize the above information as support for your conclusions in the Neighborhood section of the appraisal report form. If you used any additional information, such as an analysis of pending sales and/or expired and withdrawn listings, to formulate your conclusions, provide both an explanation and support for your conclusions.

There is not enough information to adequately populate this form. However, my experience in this area with other types of properties in other value ranges, indicates the market is stable.

The appraiser is aware of the overages for net/gross adjustments and price/age variations. This is a rural market segment with limited comparables. The best available comparables are used.
The presence of wind turbines within the view does not have a measurable impact on the subject property's market value. However, buyer perception and desirability may be influenced depending on personal preferences.
The appraiser agreed to perform this assignment for $525.00.

• URAR: Neighborhood - Boundaries
The subject is bounded by County Road 1600 to the North, by the County Line to the South, by Interstate 35 to the West, and by Highway 1 to the East. Within these boundaries the neighborhood characteristics are quite similar and the demand is the same for these neighborhood boundaries.

• URAR : Sales Comparison Analysis - Summary of Sales Comparison Approach

Records were researched to find the most comparable sales, or the sales most representative of the subject and the subject market. Every attempt was made to locate sales that were the closest in proximity to the subject. There were normal adjustments made to each comparable in order to arrive at my opinion of value. The appraiser utilizes his personal knowledge of the real estate market and sales data to determine the size and amount of each adjustment. The adjustments made and the rationale for each are as follows:

SALES OR FINANCING CONCESSIONS: I found no unusual financing concessions: The typical financing in the area consists of VA, FHA, and Conventional Bank Loans with Bank Loans typically being sold on the "secondary" market.

DATE OF SALE/TIME: The market in the area remains relatively steady. With this factor in mind, I found no time adjustment necessary.

LOCATION: The subject and comparable sales are considered similar in location without significant differences in proximity situations and distances to shopping, employment, and/or social functions, etc.

LEASEHOLD/FEE SIMPLE: The subject was appraised assuming an un-encumbered "FEE SIMPLE" title without undue restrictions and with only normal mortgage indebtedness.

SITE: Typically, site adjustments are made to compensate for the size differential. The adjustment was based on 60% per acre of the opinion of value for vacant land in the market segment which is $4,844 and was rounded to the nearest 100.

VIEW: Since the subject and sales were within the same or competing neighborhoods, without substantial differences in site/view, an adjustment did not appear to be necessary.

DESIGN AND APPEAL: Comparables were utilized that did not substantially differ in design and appeal and no adjustment was necessary.

QUALITY OF CONSTRUCTION: Again sales were located that were mostly similar in quality of construction with the subject and no adjustment was deemed necessary.

AGE: The actual age of the subject was determined and the effective age was estimated. The anticipated life expectancy of the subject and comparables were estimated at 60 years yielding an annual depreciation factor of 1.67% i.e. (1/60 = 1.67%). Next, the site or lot value was subtracted from the sales price, leaving only the value of the improvements. The difference then between effective age of the subject and the effective age of the comparable sale was multiplied by 1.67% to arrive at a factor which is then multiplied by the value of the improvements to arrive at the adjustment used on each comparable sale.

By utilizing the special technique of market extraction, I have extracted the factor of 1.67% from the market, which further supports the effective age life method of depreciation.

NOTE: This method of depreciation is used in the "Marshall and Swift" cost analysis. The same 60 year anticipated life is used in the Cost Approach and the same 1.67% per annum depreciation is taken from the cost new of the improvements prior to the addition of land or site values. This formula then, makes the cost and market consistent throughout.

CONDITION: This adjustment is made for the differences of the condition while comparing the Subject to the comparables. Analyzing the price per square footage of the comparable sales used within the report will determine if this adjustment should be applied. The adjustment is always used for new construction of a residence since the comparables are not brand new like the Subject as of the effective date. If this adjustment is used; then in order to arrive at this adjustment the formula described under age will be applied.

ROOM COUNT: The comparables are adjusted for the difference in square footage. This adjustment is typically 60% of the sales price per square foot of the sales. In addition to this adjustment, there was no further adjustment for the room count. EXCEPTION: In the case of differences in bath count, there is an adjustment for this difference in as much as the typical buyer is often stimulated by the additional baths, and due to the cost of a bath being substantially greater than normal living area. There will be an adjustment for the bath count differential.

GROSS LIVING AREA: This adjustment is approximately 60% of the sales price per square foot of the sales less and except the land value.

HEATING/COOLING: An adjustment may be necessary for differences in central heat and air versus wall/floor furnaces, space heaters, etc. This adjustment is based on the market reaction to this amenity.

GARAGE/CARPORT: Adjustments for the differences in car storage are deemed necessary and are based on the "typical" buyer reaction or market reaction.

PORCH/PATIOS: At times an adjustment may be necessary when there are significant differences in size and quality of this feature.

EXTRA AMENITIES: This adjustment is made based on the quality, size, and typical value of the subject versus the comparable sales. Usually the larger and more expensive the home the more elaborate or expensive the outbuilding. This adjustment is based on the Depreciated Cost Data Analysis. This is based on a 50 economic life of the outbuilding, applying the cost approach along with depreciation for the age of the building for this adjustment.

CONCLUSION: The above adjustments are made in order to arrive at a conclusion and a final reconciliation of the value of the subject. This explanation of the adjustments are tendered to give an indication as to the appraiser's reasoning and rationale for the adjustments. After extensive research these were the best available comparables within the neighborhood boundaries. During the reconciliation comparable one received 20%, comparable two received 15%, comparable three received 25%, comparable four received 20% and comparable five received 20% of the gross adjusted sales price for the opinion of the market value.

HIGHEST AND BEST USE ANALYSIS

Highest and Best Use is defined as "that reasonable and probable use that will support the highest value, as defined, as of the effective date of the appraisal." Alternatively, that use, from among reasonably probable and legal alternative uses, found to be physically possible, appropriately supported, financially feasible, and which results in the highest land value.

The definition immediately above applies specifically to the highest and best use of land. It is to be recognized that in cases where a site has existing improvements on it, the highest and best use may very well be determined to be different from the existing use. The existing use will continue, however, unless and until land value in its highest and best use exceeds the total value of the property in its existing use.

Implied within these definitions is recognition of the contribution of that specific use to community environment or to community development goals in addition to wealth maximization of individual property owners. Also implied is that the determination of highest and best use resulting from the appraiser's own judgment and analytical skill; i.e., "that the use determined from analysis represents an opinion, not a factor to be found" (The dictionary of Real Estate, Second Edition, AIREA).

In determining the highest and best use of the site, the process is one of considering all possible uses to which it can be put. Of these uses, only those legally permissible uses are further narrowed to those that are economically feasible. Finally, highest and best use of the site is selected from those uses considered feasible.

Legal Restraints:

The subject site is situated outside the limits of Sulphur, Oklahoma and therefore is not restricted by the city's zoning ordinances. No known covenants, restricting the subject tract of land, exists. No known deed restrictions to the subject property exist. Considering the site to be vacant, it could be developed for a wide variety of uses. The primary development trend within the subject neighborhood can be characterized as single family. The subject use is consistent with development patterns within the neighborhood.

PHYSICAL RESTRAINTS:

The subject site consists of approximately 10 acres. It is not physically possible to construct a wide variety of uses on the site, without physical restraints. However it is physically possible to construct a single family residence on this site.

Feasible Use:

For any project, the test of feasibility is the soundness of the required investment. The calculation of the amount and timing of the required investment, the anticipated recovery of and return on the investment, and the risks attached to the recovery and the returns is the core of feasibility analysis.

Borrower/Client	Raymond Unwin
Property Address	2725 Lawton Ave
City	Sulphur	County	Murray	State	OK	Zip Code	73086

Maximally Productive:

Finally the highest and best use is that use that produces the greatest return over a specified term. The subject is presently used for single family, which appears to be maximally productive for this property.

CONCLUSION: The subject is used for single family at the present time. It is my opinion that among all alternate uses, the current use is the highest and best use. The highest and best use of this property would be single family use.
